

PDA

PROJECT ON DEFENSE ALTERNATIVES

COMMONWEALTH INSTITUTE ■ CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS
617-547-4474 ■ WWW.COMW.ORG/PDA ■ PDA@COMW.ORG

AN UNDISCIPLINED DEFENSE

Understanding the $2 Trillion Surge in US Defense Spending

Project on Defense Alternatives Briefing Report #20
18 January 2010

Table of Contents

Tables and Figures .....	iv
Executive Summary .....	v
1. Introduction: Why more than the Cold War? .....	1
2. The post-1998 surge in US defense spending .....	2
3. Summary of empirical findings .....	5
4. What drives the DOD spending surge? .....	7
4.1 Peace versus power dividend .....	8
4.2 Dilemmas of the drawdown .....	9
4.3 More hands to the task: DoD workforce dynamics .....	12
4.4 Discordant modernization .....	16
5. Conclusion: Trillions to burn? .....	20
Appendix A: Data Review .....	25
1. Disaggregating the post-1998 spending surge .....	25
1.1 Tracing the change in spending priorities .....	26
1.2 The effect of the post-9/11 wars on DoD budget allocation .....	27
1.3 Trends in spending on personnel, operations, and maintenance .....	28
1.4 Trends in modernization spending .....	31
2. The surge in military construction .....	33
3. The surge by service, spending category, and time period .....	35
4. Defense-wide spending .....	39
Appendix B: Goal inflation in post-Cold War US defense strategy .....	43
1. The post-Cold War shift in strategy and goals .....	44
2. The Pentagon's full plate .....	45
3. Stressing the force .....	47
4. From missions to "requirements": Capability-based planning .....	48
Appendix C: More for less? The limits of revolution &amp; reform .....	51
1. A costly complexity .....	51
2. The prospects for reform .....	51
3. Downsizing reform .....	52
4. Acquisition, logistics, and financial management reform .....	54
5. The thermidor in military affairs .....	56
Appendix D: Data Sources .....	61